DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This undated log house was located on the south side of Mt. Aetna Road west of White Hall Road southeast of Hagerstown in Washington County, Maryland. It was situated on sloping ground and faced north. It was destroyed in 1976.

This house was a one and a half story three bay dwelling sheathed with turn of the century period narrow gauge siding. The plan of the house was irregular with doors and windows spaced at odd intervals. Two four panel doors were placed side by side in the two western bays of the front elevation. Windows had two over two pane sashes held within frames with plain architraves.

The roof was covered with wooden shingles.

In areas where the siding was missing, portions of the log structure were exposed.

The house was in deteriorated condition when photographed in 1975. It had been lived in by the family of the present owner in the 1930's and 40's. The property contains 64.19 acres.
